Dining with Confidence & Style

At Oneida, we understand how important the dining atmosphere and service is within an assisted living community. Residents deserve dining experiences curated to their tastes, their styles, and, importantly, their needs. This doesn't mean the dining experience can't parallel that of your residents' favorite restaurants.

The Oneida Healthcare Collection is functionally ideal for any senior living dining setting, with its style, design and quality ensuring your residents, employees and guests will have a better dining experience.

Tableware is an essential factor in creating this unique dining experience for residents. Not only does Oneida tabletop elevate the meal on an aesthetic level, but it also has functional qualities that make dining easier for those in senior living communities.

What does this equate to? Happier, more satisfied residents.

Bring trends and sophistication to your tables. Partner with Oneida to give your residents more than just a meal. Give them an experience.

Subtle visual cues such as color and a border can aid residents in their dining. Color can make the food more attractive and make it easier to distinguish if the food contrasts with the color of the plate. This is helpful to those struggling with depth perception issues.
